The author, David France, was just 22 years old when he was diagnosed with HIV in 1981. At the time, there was no cure for AIDS, and the virus was a death sentence. France was given just a few years to live.

But France refused to give up. He fought for his life, and he refused to let AIDS define him. He became an activist and a writer, and he used his voice to speak out against the stigma and discrimination that people with AIDS faced.

The Storm is France's story of survival. It is a story of love, loss, grief, and hope. It is a story that will stay with you long after you finish reading it.
